MARYLAND JOCKEY CLUB HISTORY

MARYLAND JOCKEY CLUB HISTORY

It all began in colonial days when men were of a necessity much closer to horses and the improvement of their breed. The first recorded instances of organized racing occur in Virginia, but by 1740 the sport was being fostered in Maryland by Governor Samuel Ogle. To conduct and regulate race meetings, the Maryland Jockey Club was founded in 1743 and thus today is the oldest sporting association in the United States.

There is scant record of the activities of the original MJC, save the notations in George Washington's diary, which would indicate that the meetings served as excuses for rather extensive social affairs. Throughout Washington's diaries runs the theme of his breeding and racing horses. In any event, the club was suspended during the Revolutionary War and was not re-organized until March 12, 1783, when Governor Paca and Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, became its presiding officers. The group included Benjamin C. Stoddert, first secretary of the Navy.

The club continued with-as-catch-can meetings for a number of years until 1830 when the MJC was officially incorporated on June 3 by an instrument of charter, which is today housed in the Library of Congress.

The new club was significant for several reasons. It was the first to lay out a race track to scale (one mile around) and to use precision timing of the events, three clock devices of different natures being utilized for the purpose.

President Andrew Jackson became a MJC member the day before the first meeting was run off on Oct. 25, 1831 at the Central Course, located near Old Frederick Road and Franklin Turnpike, outside of Baltimore. A lifelong horseman, Jackson was a former saddle-maker, who remained a MJC member for many years. Admission, if you came by four-wheel carriage, was $1 for the carriage and each person it contained. Those coming by two-wheeler or on horseback paid 75 cents and those on foot were charged a quarter.

The scale of weights for the meeting indicated that two-year-old colts and fillies would be assigned "a feather," three-year-olds lugged 86 pounds, and top weight was 124 pounds for seven-year-olds and up. This was merciful on the Thoroughbreds since the emphasis was on stamina rather than speed and four-mile heats were the custom to settle the issue. In case of ties, it was not unusual for horses to run 20 miles before a winner was declared.

Racing got under way for the first time at the present Pimlico on Oct. 25, 1870 with a surprising 12,000 fans present. The feature event was a $10,000 match race between Stamps and Narragansett, a sizable purse for those times, but even that was topped by the $15,000 purse for the winner of the Dinner Party Stakes the next day.

The latter event was won by Sanford's Preakness, a strikingly handsome colt which covered the two mile distance in 3:47 1/2 under a capable ride from the noted English jockey, William Hayward. As it turned out, however, the horse far overshadowed the race he won that day. He was subsequently shipped to England, one of the first American exports of thoroughbreds, and won stakes races there before retiring to stud.

It was natural then, that in 1873, when the immediately successful Pimlico management was in need of a name for a major stakes contest for three-year-olds, Preakness was considered and adopted. Thus was born the middle jewel of American racing's famed Triple Crown.

It had cost about $25,000 to build the original Pimlico, the chief expense being a high-tiered wooden stand featured by three prominent spires. This stand has long since vanished, along with the original clubhouse, flamboyant in its "gingerbread" Victorian style, and a Pimlico fixture until a destructive fire in 1966.

Later, in 1956, the sleeping quarters were converted into semi-private dining and club rooms for the members and a library was created to house the invaluable collection of books and records of the Maryland Jockey Club. One of the second floor gaming rooms became the Jockeys Hall of Fame.

The success at Pimlico established the MJC as the leading racing body in the East. Its rules and scale of weights were in common use at tracks from Charleston to New York.

Racing was banned in New York in 1911. The economic catastrophe which threatened horsemen as a result, paved the way for the opening of a major track at Laurel. Laurel Racecourse, now conducting business as Laurel Park, became part of the Maryland racing schedule that same year. Another major track was opened at Havre de Grace in 1912 and Maryland became the metropolis of Eastern racing.

Sportsman William P. Riggs set about to establish Pimlico as the nation's premier track. As secretary of M.J.C., he boosted the purse for the Preakness past $10,000 for the first time in 1918 and the event attracted so many entries it had to be run in two divisions.

Originally, the basement of the old clubhouse contained a bowling alley and the middle floors were given over to ornate gaming rooms, and the famous Hilltop Dining Room. The third floor contained sleeping quarters for MJC members who were present to race their horses.

In 1919, Sir Barton won the Kentucky Derby on May 10, shipped to Pimlico and won the Preakness on May 14, and then copped the Belmont Stakes on June 11, (sandwiching in a victory in the Withers on May 24), to become America's first Triple Crown winner, an honor attained by only 10 other horses since, though nearly every good three-year-old has tried it.

Pimlico quickly advanced to the ranks of the top four racetracks in America in point of purse distribution. This resulted in the attraction of the greatest horses, trainers and jockeys campaigning, including no less than Man O'War, who skipped the Kentucky Derby to make his three-year-old debut in the Preakness.

By 1937, Pimlico led the nation in purse distribution. Riggs died on February 7, 1926, but he had already assured Pimlico of its present role as Maryland's greatest racing center and one of the nation's most respected tracks, spanning the administration of MJC presidents Robert C. Hall, H. Carroll Brown, William M. Manley and Spalding Lowe Jenkins.

Pimlico maintained its stature under the succeeding administrations of Charles E. McLane, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and Henry A. Parr III through 1952, when the track was purchased by business magnates Ben and Herman Cohen in cooperation with their associate, Louis Pondfeld.

By 1954, Pimlico had an entirely new and modern clubhouse and grandstand structure built of steel and concrete and featuring such innovations in sports buildings as escalators and elevators.

In 1957 the Preakness was attended by Vice-President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon. The future President of the United States presented the Woodlawn Vase to Mrs. Carnegie Phipps, whose Bold Ruler defeated Kentucky Derby-winner Iron Leige by two lengths. As the MJC moved into the 60's era, many major improvements were under construction, including a new ultramodern clubhouse, which contained a dining room, jockeys quarters, a new indoor paddock and administrative offices. The finish line was moved 220 yards further down the stretch and the Preakness purse was raised from $50,000 to $150,000, making it the richest added money stakes in the United States. In 1966, Kauai King won the Preakness, making him the first Maryland-bred to win since Challedon in 1939. Chick Lang was named the new general manager in 1969 as Preakness Day established Maryland records for wagering and attendance. The $3,198,502 was the first $3 million day in MJC history.

The early 1970's saw the remodeling of the grandstand and clubhouse with over $1.5 million in renovations. The tunnel was installed for Preakness Day for crossing under the top of the stretch. Attendance and wagering records were broken on a yearly basis, and in 1973 Secretariat became the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948. A half-million dollar landscaping around the perimeter of Pimlico was added to the many other improvements. Seattle Slew and Affirmed won back-to-back Preaknesses in 1977 and 1978, en route to becoming the second and third Triple Crown winners of the decade.

In 1983, the MJC purchased Bowie Race Course, the first major racetrack to regularly conduct winter racing in the northeast. The MJC now operates Bowie as a Thoroughbred horse-training center. 1983 also saw Maryland-bred Deputed Testamony, along with local trainer Bill Boniface and Baltimore born jockey Donald Miller, Jr. win the Preakness.

Just before the end of 1986, Frank J. De Francis, along with a group of minority partners, purchased Pimlico from the Cohen family for more than $30 million. In the remaining years of the 1980's, several million dollars was spent on innovative facilities improvements at both Laurel and Pimlico. Frank De Francis revived the now-popular Pimlico Special in 1988, after its absence from the stakes program for 29 years. A commanding presence on the local and national racing scene, De Francis spearheaded legislation authorizing Sunday racing in Maryland, telephone wagering and the landmark Tax Reform Act of 1985, which provided tremendous tax relief to the Maryland racing industry.

In August of 1989, De Francis passed away. His son, Joseph A. De Francis, a successful attorney who had worked with his father for several years on Thoroughbred and Standardbred racing issues, became MJC President and Chief Executive Officer at age 34. In 1993, the De Francis family and partner Martin Jacobs purchased the ownership interests of Laurel and Pimlico from several minority partners. In 1993, MJC also celebrated its 250th anniversary, and in 1994, enjoyed the most successful season of racing in the organization's 251-year history.

Under the younger De Francis' stewardship in the 1990's, the MJC realized significant achievements, including: the legislative authorization of unlimited full-card simulcasting and off-track betting; the creation of the first cooperative two state racing circuit between Maryland and Virginia, with the opening of Colonial Downs in 1997; the multi-year legislation of $36 million in state funding for racing purses and breeders funds, working in cooperation with Maryland horsemen and breeders; and the beginning of the implementation of a five-year, $60 million plan to move Maryland racing successfully into the 21st century. The last decade of the century saw records established in virtually every statistical wagering category, and on Preakness Day itself, in attendance and handle.

Under the leadership of The Stronach Group, the Maryland Jockey Club has reinvigorated and modernized racing in the Midatlantic in the 21st century. The 141st running of the Preakness Stakes, the Middle Jewel of the Triple Crown, drew a record 135,256 fans who wagered a record $94,127,434. The 2016 Maryland Million attracted a crowd of 21,722 that wagered $4.476 million, a 59 percent increase over the 2014 handle.

Over the past three years, The Stronach Group has committed more than $30 million to modernize Laurel Park with new suites, boxes, event rooms and new barns. In 2016, it continued expanding its off-track betting network by purchasing Rosecroft, a Standardbred facility in Fort Washington.

THE MARYLAND JOCKEY CLUB

1743 through 2018

The Maryland Jockey Club was founded more than 30 years before the start of the Revolutionary War. After 270 years it remains the corporate name of Pimlico.

A Capsule Chronology

- 1743 — Maryland Jockey Club founded in Annapolis. The Annapolis Subscription Plate, second oldest known racing trophy in America, won on May 4, 1743, at Annapolis by Dr. George Steuart's Dungannon.
- 1755 — Irregular meetings from this year until 1764, due to French and Indian War.
- 1762 — George Washington attended Maryland Jockey Club races frequently, as he did in 1771, 1772, and 1773.
- 1769 — Both Spring and Autumn meetings held for the first time at Annapolis. From there to the start of the Revolutionary War, the Maryland Jockey Club meetings were the focal point of colonial racing enthusiasts.
- 1775 — When the Autumn meeting was about to be run, the Maryland Jockey Club races were postponed upon the recommendation of Congress "in consequence of a report upon the state of the country. All quietly returned to their homes."
- 1782 — Annapolis races resumed in the autumn, the country having returned to a state of normalcy following the Revolutionary War.
- 1783 — Maryland Jockey Club revitalized on March 1, six months before the peace treaty, with Governor William Paca and Charles Carroll of Carrollton (both signers of the Declaration of Independence) among the members.
- 1830 — The Maryland Jockey Club was issued a new charter by Congress which is now in the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. Gen. T. M. Forman elected president; B. I. Cohen, treasurer; and J. S. Skinner, corresponding secretary. With the decline of Annapolis and the growth of Baltimore as an economic center, the Maryland Jockey Club shifted its operations to the Central Course, Baltimore, about five miles southwest of the city on the Frederick Pike.
- 1831 — President Andrew Jackson became a member of the Maryland Jockey Club, racing his White House stable under the name of his secretary, A. J. Donelson.
- 1867 — Site of present Pimlico incorporated for a track by the State of Maryland.
- 1868 — After the interruption caused by the Civil War, a revival began at Saratoga when Maryland Governor Oden Bowie and others devised the Dinner Party Stakes for a track in Baltimore.
- 1869 — First state fair held at Pimlico.
- 1870 — Present Maryland Jockey Club site (Pimlico) opened on October 25. New corporation organized May 14 in Barnum's City Hotel in Baltimore. Governor Bowie was elected president of Pimlico. First stakes winner, Preakness, a son of Lexington, won the Dinner Party Stakes on October 27. Also presented were the Supper, Breakfast and Bowie Stakes. Harry Bassett won the Supper Stakes, while Glenelg won both the Breakfast and Bowie Stakes.
- 1873 — First running of the Preakness, classic event for three-year-olds. There were seven starters from 21 subscribers. Survivor won. The Preakness was named for the first winner of the Dinner Party Stakes.
- 1875 — John F. Chamberlin's Tom Ochiltree won a maiden race for all ages at six furlongs on May 26 at Pimlico. Two days later he won the third running of the Preakness. Milton H. Sanford's Bay Final, favored on the basis of his victory in a mile race the day previous, finished third.
- 1876 — The MJC presented nine stakes, which attracted 212 nominations. Shirley won the 4th running of the Preakness.
- 1877 — House of Representatives adjourned (the Senate had already closed session) on October 24 so that members could witness a race of intersectional scope in which Parole, Ten Broeck and Tom Ochiltree met. They finished in that order. Parole, a Pennsylvania horse, was the upsetter. The MJC's program of ten stakes attracted 274 nominations. Rappahanock ran in match race against Kilburn.
- 1878 — Duke of Magenta won Preakness, first of five consecutive wins for owner George L. Lorillard.
- 1881 — Western Maryland branch of Arlington and Pimlico Railroad founded in January to connect Pimlico with the city. The trip from Hillen Station to the track was 25 minutes; round-trip fare, 50 cents. Last state fair held at Pimlico, the event later shifting to Timonium.
- 1883 — Pimlico Stakes, at 1-5/8 miles on October 26, attracted Iroquois (first American-bred to win the English Derby and first horse to win $100,000 in purses), and immortal Miss Woodford. The latter, with 109 pounds, won from Dixie winner George Kinney. Iroquois, far below his best form, finished third.
- 1889 — Maryland Jockey Club racing abandoned at Pimlico until 1904. During this period, several Maryland racing groups held abbreviated meetings at Pimlico, some called "outlaw" affairs, some sanctioned.
- 1890 — The Preakness was run at Morris Park in New York. For that year only, it was for horses three-year-olds and up.
- 1894 — Fire destroyed Pimlico grandstand, September 2. The Preakness was run at Gravesend in Brooklyn, N.Y. where it remained for 15 runnings through 1908.
- 1898 — On April 26 the First Maryland Brigade went into training at Camp Wilmer, set up in Pimlico infield, less than 48 hours after Spain declared war on the United States.

HISTORY

- Crowds lined march route from Paca Street to track to watch troops begin training for active duty in Cuba.
- 1904 — Pimlico property sold to William R. Hammond for $70,000. Young James E. (Sunny Jim) Fitzsimmons was the leading trainer at the seven-day fall meeting with three winners. William P. Riggs, a New Englander, was the leader in bringing racing back to Pimlico in the autumn of 1904.
- 1905 — R. Wyndham Walden, one of the greatest American trainers of the 19th century, died April 28, after having saddled record seven Preakness winners, five being in succession (1878-1882).
- 1908 — New world automobile record for a mile on a circular track established at Pimlico when Italian driver Emmanuele Cedrino sped mile in :51, shaving 5-3/5 seconds off the world standard. Upon completing the mile, Cedrino's racing car went out of control, throwing and fatally injuring its driver.
- 1909 — The Preakness returned to Pimlico where it has since been run annually without interruption.
- 1911 — First pari-mutuel windows in Maryland opened at Pimlico's Spring meeting. Havre de Grace followed suit in 1912.
- 1918 — Preakness run in two divisions, for the only time, as value of race was raised to $15,000 added from $5,000 in previous years. Races attracted a total of 26, but five were scratched in each division, with War Cloud winning the first division and Jack Hare, Jr. taking the second.
- 1919 — Sir Barton, the first Derby winner to run in the Preakness, won here and at the Belmont, to become America's first Triple Crown winner. The J.K.L. Ross owned colt captured the Preakness four days after his Derby victory. Preakness purse was increased to $25,000.
- 1920 — Man o'War began his unparalleled three-year-old season with a victory in the Preakness after winter training in Maryland. Burke Law authorized betting in Maryland. Previously, tracks were licensed by Maryland courts.
- 1921 — Benjamin Block's unbeaten Morvich won the inaugural running of the Pimlico Futurity, then the richest race ($51,250 gross) in the nation.
- 1924 — Dixie Handicap revived. Nellie Morse becomes fourth filly to win Preakness.
- 1926 — William P. Riggs, Maryland Jockey Club secretary who led the revival of the sport at Pimlico in 1904, died after guiding Pimlico to a position of leadership among the nation's racetracks. He returned the Preakness to Pimlico, revived the Dixie Stakes and originated the Pimlico Futurity, which was the richest race in the nation at its inception. Matthias L. Daiger succeeded Riggs as MJC secretary.
- 1930 — Gallant Fox, with Earle Sande up, won 55th Preakness and went on to become second Triple Crown winner after an 11 year lapse. On June 8th, after Gallant Fox won the Belmont Stakes, Bryan Field's New York Times story referred to the colt "completing his Triple Crown." It is believed to be one of the earliest references to the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont Stakes winner.
- 1933 — American Totalisator installed for Autumn meeting.
- 1935 — Omaha captured 60th Preakness by six lengths and later became the third Triple Crown winner by taking the Belmont.
- 1937 — Inaugural running of the Pimlico Special, first race in America by "invitation only" and one of the nation's great weight-for-age classics. Pimlico's average purse distribution nation's highest. War Admiral wins Preakness and becomes the fourth Triple Crown champion and later returns to capture the first Pimlico Special.
- 1938 — The largest crowd (estimated at 43,000) to see a race at Pimlico turned out on November 1 for the match in which Seabiscuit beat War Admiral in the second running of the Pimlico Special. Hill in infield, which long identified Pimlico as "Old Hilltop," leveled. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who, over a period of two years secured control of the stock, elected president of Maryland Jockey Club, succeeding Charles E. McLane.

- 1944 — All Maryland racing conducted at Pimlico due to World War II travel restrictions. Ashes of musician Percy L. Barry spread over racing strip at Pimlico.
- 1945 — An outstanding one-day stakes program was staged at Pimlico on June 16 with the running of the Preakness, Dixie Handicap, Pimlico Oaks, Jennings Handicap and the Pimlico Nursery. Wartime conditions necessitated the one day meeting.

- Special. Ashes of Dillon Grey, a trainer who asked to be buried at the races, interred in Pimlico infield.
- 1950 — Ashes of jockey Willie Doyle, 1909 Preakness winner, scattered over finish line. Control of Laurel sold to Morris Schapiro.
- 1951 — First race to be televised nationally was the Pimlico Special by CBS from Pimlico November 16.
- 1953 — Pimlico opened under the management of Ben and Herman Cohen, who had purchased the track the previous year for $2.2 million. Native Dancer won the Preakness after unlucky loss in the Kentucky Derby.

The day-to-day management of the MJC will remain in the hands of Joseph De Francis and his management team while Maryland racing will benefit from becoming an important part of Magna Entertainment's expanding network of major North American racetracks.

2003 — The Preakness Stakes, which was run under Magna Entertainment Corp. management for the first time, was a major success as attendance topped 100,000 for the fourth time in five years and betting figures exceeded $60 million for the third consecutive year. The fourth largest crowd in history (100,268) packed historic Pimlico on a cold and rainy May 17 to watch 10 of the finest three-year olds in the middle jewel of thoroughbred racing's Visa Triple Crown. Despite 15 fewer betting interests than last year's record-breaking year, wagering finished at $64.6 million, including $38.5 on the state's signature race. The two headline events at Laurel Park also produced record-setting handle figures this year. The overall handle on De Francis Dash Day (November 16) was $6.5 million, the best number in the 14-year history of the event. Maryland Million Day (October 18) also featured a record handle as $6.6 million was wagered, eclipsing the previous record of $6.1 million set in 1999. The handle was the largest in the 92-year history of Laurel.

2004 — The 129th Preakness Stakes was a major success as records were set in attendance and handle. A crowd of 112,668 packed historic Pimlico Race Course, while wagering finished at $87.9 million including $59.4 million on the state's signature event. NBC Sports' broadcast of Smarty Jones' record breaking 11 1/2 -length victory in the middle jewel of the Visa Triple Crown delivered a 7.7 national rating/19 share for the race segment (5:45-6:50 p.m. ET), best since 1990 and a 35 percent improvement from 2003. The Maryland Jockey Club had productive cards on Maryland Million and De Francis Dash days. The $4.6 million bet on the October 9 Pimlico card was a record for Maryland Million races, while a total of $3.8 million passed through the pari-mutuel windows on the 10-race Fall Festival Of Racing card at Old Hilltop on November 20, a day featuring six added money races, headlined by the Grade I De Francis Dash. The field attracted four Breeders' Cup Sprint participants and the top three finishers from 2003. Seven of the top nine riders in the country based on earning had mounts in the main event.

2005 — A crowd of 115,318 packed historic Pimlico Race Course on May 21. Attendance figures have now topped six-figures in six of the last seven years on Preakness Day, including five straight. Preakness day wagering finished at more than $91 million, breaking the record of nearly $88 million set in 2004. A pool of $63.2 million was bet on the middle jewel of the Triple Crown. The two headline events of the fall calendar at Laurel Park also set records. The $5.1 million bet on the October 15 card was a record for Maryland Million races, while a total of $4.8 million passed through the pari-mutuel windows on the November 19 Fall Festival Of Racing program, a day featuring eight added money races, headlined by the Grade I De Francis Dash. Numbers for the 2005 Laurel Park fall meeting were up nearly 30%. A major reason for the increase was the success of the new Laurel Park turf course, which debuted on September 7. The new, sweeping turf course, which was widened from 75 feet to 142 feet, helped make the track a top simulcast signal with an average of 11.2 starters per grass race as the export numbers were up more than 60% from last fall. The statistics were impressive as 105-of-134 races featured double digit fields, a 78% rate. Laurel Park's new turf course saw 29 full fields of 14 facing the starter. Only 11 races featured fewer than eight starters and nine of those were seven horse fields.

Preakness day wagering finished at more than $87.5 million, the third largest in the 131-year history of the event. A pool of $56.4 million was bet on the middle jewel of the Triple Crown. The two headline events of the fall calendar were extremely successful. More than $5.5 passed through the pari-mutuel windows on the November 25 Fall Festival Of Racing program, a day featuring eight added money races, headlined by the Grade I De Francis Dash. The $4.9 million bet on the October 14 Maryland Million card was the second highest figure in the 21-year history of the event.

The 22nd annual Maryland Million event drew a record crowd of 26,788 to Laurel Park on a picture perfect October afternoon. Handle figures on the live card neared $6 million with a record $5,985,793 on the 12-race Laurel card shattering the record of $5 million set in 2005. In September, Magna Entertainment Corp. exercised its option to acquire the remaining interest in The Maryland Jockey Club from Joseph De Francis and Karin De Francis.

2008 — At odds of 1-5, Big Brown becomes the shortest-priced Preakness winner since 1979 when Maryland-based Spectacular Bid won at 1-10. Trained by Maryland native Ricky Dutrow and ridden by Kent Desormeaux, who starred at Pimlico and Laurel Park in the late 1980's, the son of Boundary failed to become the first three-year-old to capture the Triple Crown in 30 years when he finished ninth in the Belmont Stakes.

2009 — The Maryland Jockey Club redefined the Infield experience on Preakness day, with InfieldFEST featuring a concert with three rock performances, including Rock and Roll Hall of Famers ZZ Top. Rachel Alexandra becomes the first filly in 85 years to win the Preakness, beating 12 boys, including Kentucky Derby winner Mine That Bird. The race drew 10.9-million viewers on NBC Sports, up 38% from 2008 when 7.9-million viewers watched Big Brown dominate the middle jewel of racing's Triple Crown against a field of overmatched runners. The race portion of the 2009 Preakness (5:56-6:50 p.m. ET) registered a national rating of 6.8, with a 16 share, the highest numbers since Smarty Jones five years earlier.

2010 — Pimlico Race Course teams up with Susan G. Komen for the Cure®, the world's largest breast cancer organization, to raise funds to aid awareness and research on Black-Eyed Susan Day. The People's Pink Party included the Lady Legends For the Cure Race™, the first ever pari-mutuel race showcasing retired female riders, two of whom were breast cancer survivors. Profiled on NBC Sports, the race was also filmed as the climatic ending to the feature length documentary in production, JOCK, chronicling the story of the first generation of lady jockeys. Gwen Jocson won the inaugural race aboard Honor in Peace for her 764th career victory. Preakness attendance was up nearly 10% at Pimlico as the Preakness crowd increased from 77,850 to 95,760. Performances by Grammy Award winner Zac Brown Band and Platinum selling musical group O.A.R. in the infield contributed to a festive event. Hall of Fame trainer Bob Baffert won the Woodlawn Vase for the fifth time when Lookin At Lucky captured the middle jewel of racing's Triple Crown.

2011—After pressing a fast early pace, Michael Lauffer and W.D. Cubbedge's Shackleford took the lead into the homestretch and had just enough energy in reserve to hold off a charging Kentucky Derby winner Animal Kingdom by a half-length to capture the 2011 Preakness Stakes (G1) last May. The 136th running of the middle jewel of the Triple Crown was a fitting conclusion to a 13-race program that attracted 107,398 to Pimlico Race Course and generated an all-sources handle of $76,376,689. The attendance, which included InfieldFest partygoers who were treated to concerts by Grammy Award winners Train and Bruno Mars, was the sixth largest in Preakness history. Trained by Dale Romans, Shackleford took down the $600,000 winner's purse, as well a bonus of $550,000, courtesy of the Preakness 5.5, an incentive program inaugurated by MI Developments and connected to his participation in the major 3-year-old stakes at Pimlico's sister track, Gulfstream Park. "I've won some big races, but none as exciting as that one," Romans said. "We had a great week here at Pimlico, and I'd just like to thank everybody here for the way they treated us."

2012—I'll Have Another moved one step closer to a Triple Crown sweep on May 19 at Pimlico Race Course with a thrilling narrow victory over a tenacious Bodemeister in the 137th running of the Preakness Stakes (G1). Reddam Racing LLC's 3-year-old colt, who defeated Bodemeister by 1 ½ lengths to win the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs two weeks earlier, was pushed to the limit to prevail by a neck over the Bob Baffert-trained pacesetter in the Middle Jewel of the Triple Crown. The exciting rematch was witnessed by a record crowd of 121,309 at Pimlico. The attendance, which included InfieldFest partygoers who were treated to concerts by six bands, featured headliners Maroon 5 and Wiz Khalifa, as well as a National Volleyball League tournament with Olympic gold medalists Phil Dalhausser and Todd Rogers. The 13-race thoroughbred card generated an all-sources handle of $80,463,005. "The numbers say it all. We had a tremendous event," Maryland Jockey Club president Tom Chuckas said. "We knew in 2009 when we changed the landscape of the infield it would take three or four years to get to where we needed to get, and we are back. The crowd out there now is in the 21-35 group. They're here to have a good time, not to cause mayhem. First-rate entertainment and world class racing is a winning combination." In December, the Maryland Jockey Club, the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and the Maryland Horse Breeders Association announced a 10-year agreement for sustained racing at Pimlico Race Course and Laurel Park. The 2013 racing season will feature 146 days of live racing days at the major Maryland tracks, the same number as in 2010, 2011 and 2012. The Maryland Jockey Club will guarantee a minimum of 100 days a year for the balance of the agreement. There are provisions in the contract for the horsemen to race additional days through a revenue-sharing program.

2013—Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas made history at Pimlico Race Course on May 18 when he saddled Oxbow for a front-running upset victory in the 138th Preakness Stakes (G1). The 15-1 long shot gave his 77-year-old trainer his sixth Preakness victory. Oxbow was in control throughout on his way to victory by 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ lengths under Hall of Fame jockey Gary Stevens. Kentucky Derby winner Orb, the 3-5 betting favorite, finished nine lengths behind the winner. Oxbow, who finished sixth in the Kentucky Derby, joined the Lukas-trained Codex (1980), Tank's Prospect (1985), Tabasco Cat (1994), Timber Country (1995) and Charismatic (1999) as a Preakness champion. Oxbow's triumph also created history for Stevens, who became the oldest jockey, at 50, to ride a Preakness winner. Eldon Nelson was 45 when he rode Bee Bee Bee to an upset victory in 1972. A crowd of 117,203 flocked into Pimlico, the fourth highest mark in the history of the event. The day included the fifth annual InfieldFest which featured concerts by six bands, including headliners Pitbull and Macklemore & Ryan Lewis. The 13-race card generated an all-sources handle of \$81,940,233. The handle ranked as the sixth best for Maryland's signature day

2014—California Chrome continued on his quest for a Triple Crown sweep by scoring a dominating victory in the $1.5 million Preakness Stakes (G1) to the enthusiastic approval of a record crowd of 123,469. The Preakness highlighted a 13-race program with nine stakes, including four graded stakes, generating an all-sources handle of $83,786,363. The celebration included performances by Grammy Award winner Lorde and hip-hop icon Nas in the infield.

2015—American Pharoah's victory in the Preakness Stakes under jockey Victor Espinoza was one of the more memorable moments in Triple Crown history. Three weeks later he would win the Belmont Stakes and become racing's first Triple Crown winner in 37 years. The record crowd wagered $85.16 million on the 14-race Preakness program, which included seven other stakes. Wagering was up 1.64 percent over the previous year. The wagering total was the sixth highest in Preakness history. American Pharoah's victory was the highlight of another outstanding week of racing and entertainment during Preakness

HISTORY OF PIMLICO RACE COURSE

Historic Pimlico Race Course, home of the Preakness Stakes, first opened its doors on October 25, 1870, making it the second oldest racetrack in the nation behind Saratoga, which debuted in 1864 in upstate New York. Engineered by General John Ellicott, Pimlico has played host to racing icons for over a century, where Baltimoreans have seen the likes of legendary horses such as Man o' War, Sir Barton, Seabiscuit, War Admiral, Citation, Secretariat and Cigar thunder down the stretch in thrilling and memorable competition.

Constructed on 70 acres west of the Jones Falls, the Maryland Jockey Club purchased the land for $23,500, and built the racetrack for $25,000 after Maryland's Governor at the time, Oden Bowie, suggested the interesting proposition during a dinner party in Saratoga, New York in 1868. Bowie and his friends, prominent racing figures, had agreed to run a race in two years commemorating the evening, for horses that were yearlings at the time. The winner would have to host the losers for dinner. Both Saratoga and the American Jockey Club made bids for the event, but Governor Bowie pledged he would build a model racetrack in his home state if the race were to be run in Baltimore. Thus, Pimlico was built.

"Pimlico" was the name given the area by English settlers in Colonial times, although the "Pemblicoe" spelling appeared on the original settlement charter granted to a group of Englishmen in 1669. The colonists hailed from an area near London, and harbored memories of a famous landmark "Olde Ben Pimlico's Tavern."

On a typical race day in the 1800's, Baltimoreans in all sorts of horse-drawn carriages paraded out through Druid Hill Park, then by Green Spring Road to the Course. Afterwards, in the early days, a spur was built from the Western Maryland Railroad at Arlington direct to the grandstand, for convenience.

The Pimlico Members' Clubhouse circa 1959.

The racetrack soon became affectionately known as “Old Hilltop,” after a small rise in the infield that became a favorite gathering place for trainers and race enthusiasts to view the contestants close-up, and vigorously cheer on their favorites. The infield was always a fashionable rendezvous, where in days gone by the four-in-hands, “spikes,” tandems, pairs and singles were parked and lively guests congregated between the races for a champagne lunch. This custom continues today in the Corporate Village at Preakness, where over 5,000 people representing many major corporations in the Mid-Atlantic region gather in a 21st century version of yesterday’s “garden party.” Over 60,000 revelers crowd additional areas of the infield to celebrate Preakness Day.

Regrettably, though the famous moniker remains today, the notable infield “hill” was removed in April 1938, ostensibly for obscuring track-level vision of the racetrack backstretch, which appeared to pose a problem for movie and television cameras in the infant days of filming races.

Despite a brief hiatus from flat racing between 1889 and 1904 — when the Preakness and Dixie were run at other tracks, and “outlaw” race meets sprung up around Maryland — Pimlico has conducted racing each year since its revival in 1904. During this interim period, steeplechase enthusiasts kept racing alive, and even became Maryland Jockey Club members upon Pimlico’s re-emergence. In 1904, racing at Pimlico ignited unprecedented recognition and interest from the public and newspapers alike. Race charts appeared, quite similar to modern-day style, and for the first time Baltimore readers found the news accounts more than mere social reports.

Racing in Pimlico even survived a 1910 anti-gambling movement that swept the country, prohibiting the sport everywhere, except in Maryland and Kentucky. Colonel Matt Winn of Churchill Downs is alleged to have credited Pimlico’s Billy Riggs as the savior of eastern racing at this time. It was Riggs’ use of the less-sinful “French Pools,” or pari-mutuel machines, in 1913 as opposed to the controversial bookmakers and their blackboards, that preserved racing at Pimlico during this turbulent time in racing. A new era was born at Pimlico, which later became the first racetrack in the country to utilize an electric starting gate.

goers arriving by car, limousine, and even helicopter, as graciously as those who visited when “Old Hilltop” was reached primarily by horse-drawn vehicle, over 130 years ago. During its rich history, the racetrack has enjoyed being the only track in the United States to be honored by the adjournment of the U.S. House of Representatives for the first and only time in history in 1877 to watch a race between Parole, Ten Broeck and Tom Ochiltree. The race became known as “The Great Race,” and a reproduction of its finish is immortalized as a Pimlico trademark, adorning the clubhouse as a signal to all entering that Pimlico is a place where legends will endure forever.

En route to becoming a true national treasure, Pimlico has earned its patina of age, weathering small and major wars, recessions, depressions — including the Great Depression of the 1930’s — fires, storms . . . and the simple passage of time. Its vitality has spanned many an era, representing a time and a society now involving three centuries. More than 50 years ago, the youthful president of the Maryland Jockey Club, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, made a pertinent observation that remains today, as Pimlico moves into another century: “Pimlico is more than a dirt track bounded by four streets. It is an accepted American institution, devoted to the best interests of a great sport, graced by time, respected for its honorable past.”

HISTORY OF LAUREL PARK

Laurel Park first appeared on the racing scene on October 2, 1911. Its first meeting was held under the direction of the Laurel Four County Fair. Three years later, in 1914, New York City grocery entrepreneur James Butler purchased the track, installing renowned promotions king Col. Matt Winn as the track's general manager. Winn is recognized as the man who put the Kentucky Derby on the racing map.

Under Butler's stewardship, Laurel hosted three match races, beginning with Hourless vs. Omar Khayyam at one mile and one-quarter on October 18, 1917. Hourless had won the 1917 Belmont Stakes and Omar Khayyam had accounted for the Kentucky Derby that year. When the two horses met in the Brooklyn Derby earlier that year, Omar Khayyam prevailed by a nose, but in the Laurel match race Hourless rallied to win by a length in a time of 2:02.

The next year, top two-year-olds Billy Kelly and Eternal met in a six-furlong match race at Laurel, vying for a $20,000 pot. Eternal edged Billy Kelly by a head, and winning owner J. W. McClelland donated his purse money to the Red Cross. Then, on October 26, 1923, two-year-olds met again in a match race when Sarazin defeated Happy Thoughts at six furlongs.

In 1947, the Maryland Jockey Club, owners of Pimlico and Timonium at the time, purchased Laurel from the Butler estate with the idea of shifting the Pimlico meeting to Laurel. However, when the plan was not approved by the Maryland Legislature, the Maryland Jockey Club decided to sell the track to Baltimore industrialist Morris Schapiro, who appointed his youngest son John David Schapiro as the track's new president. Laurel was sold to the Schapiros in 1950.

John D. Schapiro began revitalizing Laurel soon thereafter. He changed the track's name to Laurel Race Course and introduced the Washington, D.C. International, a race designed to bring together the world's best at one mile and one-half on the grass. England's Wilwyn rallied from off the pace to win in the inaugural running of the International in 1952. The race went on to become an important fixture on United States and foreign racing calendars before being placed on hiatus in 1995.

In 1953 Laurel opened a new clubhouse and turf club, and in 1957 the grandstand was remodeled. In an effort to improve conditions for the International, Laurel lengthened its turf course from seven furlongs to one mile in 1959; simultaneously, the main track was extended from one mile to one mile and one-eighth.

Laurel remodeled its clubhouse and grandstand to accommodate winter racing in 1966, enclosing the track's seating area with 30,000 square feet of half inch thick glass. Conversely, when Laurel was awarded the summer racing dates in 1982, the track installed an air conditioning system in the grandstand and clubhouse. In 1984, the 34-year Schapiro era ended with the sale of the track.

Renaissance at Laurel

Laurel entered a new era in December 1984, when Frank J. De Francis and his partners, Robert and John "Tommy" Manfuso, purchased the racetrack from Schapiro.

An innovative Laurel project was the creation of the Sports Palace in 1985. It was the first of its kind in the horse racing world. The glittering $2 million facility was a bold innovation that combines the ambience of a plush casino with state-of-the-art technology which featured computerized handicapping and a video racing library. The concept of the Sports Palace has been widely copied by other tracks.

In 1986, another $1 million was spent on additional improvements. The first floor of the clubhouse was totally renovated. The club bar and concession stands were enhanced with black marble, brass and neon accents. Three dining rooms were also part of the improvements, including the first floor "Silks Room" with its mahogany panelling and stained glass windows, where light fare is offered. The "Ruffian Room," located on the mezzanine level, is reserved for special events, and the "Sky Suite Club," for members, have also been completely redesigned in a most elegant fashion, making them among the finest at any racetrack in America.

In 1987, another $1 million was allocated to improvements, which centered on beautifying and modernizing the second floor of the clubhouse. Two new cinema theaters were added, one on the clubhouse second level and the other on the grandstand mezzanine. Important sporting events are televised in each theater.

Exterior improvements included repaving of the track apron, parking lots and stable area. Extensive landscaping has been completed around the track grounds, particularly in the paddock area with a new entrance and attractive white fencing. Also erected was a new barn in the International Village to accommodate foreign horses for the Turf Festival.

Inter-track wagering made its debut at Laurel in early 1988 with the Sports Palace playing a major role in attracting fans to the satellite-beamed races. Laurel fan support of Pimlico racing has continued to increase.

In August 1989, Frank J. De Francis died, but his vision lived on through his son, Joseph A. De Francis, serving as president of Laurel and Pimlico. Following in the footsteps of his father, De Francis introduced several concepts to Maryland racing. Under the younger De Francis' control, Off-Track Wagering, full-card simulcasting and a renewed commitment to the patron have combined to rejuvenate the sport.

In October of 1994, Joe De Francis announced that the storied racing oval would return to its roots; the track was officially renamed Laurel Park. In addition, an aggressive, multi-million dollar renovation project was unveiled and a new department—Public Relations, under the direction of Karin De Francis—was created to focus on customer service.

Following his purchase of the ownership interests of Robert and John A. Manfuso, Jr., Joe De Francis guided the track to its most successful year ever in 1994 and topped the total betting handle record in 1995.

In 1997 major improvements were made to Laurel's main entrance, the Grandstand interior and to backstretch barns. The new Main Line-1 features quadruple, large-screen TV theaters with desks and wireless mutuel terminals for the serious racing fans.

Another major improvement at Laurel was the complete rebuilding of the nine furlong racing strip in 1998. It was a massive undertaking, directed by John Passero, costing almost $2 million.

In 1999, at Laurel Park, the MJC broke ground on a new $1.85 million backstretch housing project, Laurel Commons, in cooperation with Laurel Quality of Life, Inc., the Enterprise Foundation, Inc. and the Ryan Family Foundation, Inc. In addition, Laurel Park, as part of a $16 million multi-year renovation plan, opened four premier Clubhouse areas: "Tycoons," an upscale cigar and brandy bar; "Sunny Jim's," a simulcast theatre with individual carrels; "Clocker's Corner," a casual simulcast theatre and cafe in a convenient track-side location and the "Kelso Club," a premier accommodation for VIP customers with concierge service.

The backstretch and racing surfaces at Laurel Park were closed from mid-June 2004 to early January 2005 as Magna Entertainment Corp. began a multi-million dollar renovation, which included the widening of both racing surfaces. The new main course, which has been raised and increased in width from 75 to 95 feet, now features one-turn mile races. The track's composition of 89 percent sand and 11 percent silt and clay is identical to the old Laurel dirt surface. The new, sweeping turf course, which was widened from 75 feet to 142 feet, helped make the track a top simulcast signal. The turf accommodates six track configurations which were named All Along, Bowl Game, Kelso, Dahlia, Exceller and Fort Marcy, in honor of some of the great horses which have competed on the grass at Laurel Park.

Beginning in 2015, Laurel underwent the most significant renovations to its front side and backstretch in more than two decades. More than $20 million was invested to renovate and reinvigorate the facility and its product. Laurel also made admission and general parking free to all fans.

Laurel's first floor witnessed a total makeover with a new state-of-the-art simulcast room, more than 150 flat-screen televisions, hardwood floors, new furniture and a new Flying Dog bar. The Terrace Dining Room and bar were renovated and work began on restoring the Ruffian Room.

Laurel's races were broadcast and simulcast in high definition and a new surveillance system was installed on the front and backside of the track. Laurel also began work on its backside by completing new, state-of-the-art barns that each included 150 stalls, laundry rooms, restrooms, locker rooms and wash pads.

On track, the 30th anniversary of the Jim McKay Maryland Million witnessed a 37-percent increase in handle over 2014 and the crowd of 19,119 marked a 1,000-plus increase over the previous year. The Commonwealth Derby, Oaks and Turf Cup were presented for the first time at Laurel in 2015 by the Virginia Equine Alliance.

In 2016, the Maryland Jockey Club continued renovating Laurel Park and reinvigorating racing. The 2016 Maryland Million attracted a crowd of 21,722 that wagered $4.476 million, a 59 percent increase over the 2014 handle. More turf racing continued to be carded over Laurel's world-class turf course. Handle on Laurel's 2017 Winter Carnival, featuring the Barbara Fritchie and General George, was $4.928 million, nearly a $2 million increase over 2016. The Maryland Jockey Club continued its $30 million renovation of the facility with new suites, event rooms and a new Director's Room. The Maryland Jockey Club also moved forward with innovative programs including Fantasy Owner's Day and Fantasy Football.

LAUREL PARK 100

Laurel Park first appeared on the racing scene on October 2, 1911. Its first meeting was held under the direction of the Laurel Four County Fair. Three years later, in 1914, New York City grocery entrepreneur James Butler purchased the track, installing renowned promotions king Col. Matt Winn as the track's general manager. Winn is recognized as the man who put the Kentucky Derby on the racing map.

"It has been a fantastic day," said Maryland Jockey Club president Tom Chuckas, on the 100th anniversary event in October 2011. "It is an opportunity to thank Laurel and the surrounding communities for 100 years of support. I think we have been a good corporate citizen and corporate partner. We are lucky to have Laurel and the community is lucky to have us."

The Maryland Jockey Club donated $2,700 to two area elementary schools with a modified jockey challenge program that took place during the first four races on the card. Ryan Fogelsonger had a win aboard Our Bailiwick in the opener and finished second with Funny Side Girl to help Brock Bridge Elementary School earn $1,700 and win the challenge.

"The schools can always use the money to help the kids learn," said Fogelsonger, who visited Brock Bridge two days before the event and talked to all 700 students. "It was a lot of fun. They all seemed excited about coming out today."

Highlights from the first 100 years of racing at Laurel Park:

- Triple Crown winners Sir Barton, War Admiral, Whirlaway, Secretariat and Affirmed won races at Laurel Park during their Hall of Fame careers.
- Classic winners Omar Khayyam (1917 Kentucky Derby), Hourless (1917 Belmont Stakes), Exterminator (1919 Kentucky Derby), High Echelon (1970 Belmont), Riva Ridge (1972 Derby & Belmont), Spectacular Bid (1979 Derby & Preakness Stakes), Bet Twice (1987 Belmont), Go and Go (1990 Belmont) and Barbaro (2006 Derby) also competed at the central Maryland track.
- Seabiscuit prepped at Laurel Park for his famous match race with War Admiral. On October 15, 1938, two weeks before the Pimlico Special, Seabiscuit finished second in the Laurel Stakes, a race he had won the previous year.
- Kelso, the only five-time Horse of the Year, won the 1964 Washington D.C. International in his fourth attempt, beating rival Gun Bow. Kelso finished second in his three previous tries in the International, all by less than a length.
- Sandy Hawley became the first rider in history with 500 victories in a single-season when he guided Charlie Jr. to victory at Laurel Park on December 15, 1973. Hawley finished the year with 515 victories.

- The Maryland Million, an innovative program devised by broadcaster Jim McKay to promote the Maryland breeding industry, debuted at Laurel Park in 1986. The 26th running of the event took place at Laurel on October 1, 2011.
- Edgar Prado became the fourth jockey to win 500 races in a single-season when he reached the wire first aboard Hardball on November 30, 1997 at Laurel Park. Prado ended the year with 536 victories.

- Rapid Redux joined Zenyatta and Peppers Pride as the only horses in North American thoroughbred history to win 19 consecutive races in a row after he out stepped four starter allowance runners at Laurel Park on October 27, 2011.

2018 IN REVIEW

AMERICA'S OLDEST

The Maryland Jockey Club's familiar monogram insignia is the oldest in racing. Stirrups and bit form the letter "M" and a jockey's whip forms the "J". The "C" in the familiar trademark takes shape of a spur. The insignia was used by the Maryland Jockey Club in daily programs as early as 1830.

PIMLICO PAULIE

Paul Nicol, Jr. set a Pimlico record by riding seven winners on June 8, 1983. The previous mark at Old Hilltop was six first place finishes by Chris McCarron in 1974, the year he rode 546 winners.

FIRST YEAR PHENOMS

Maryland-based riders have captured 11 of the 45 Eclipse Awards. Chris McCarron (1974), Ronnie Franklin (1978), Alberto Delgado (1982), Allen Stacy (1986), Kent Desormeaux (1987), Mike Luzzi (1989), Mark Johnston (1990), Jeremy Rose (2001), Ryan Fogelsonger (2002), Victor Carrasco (2013) and Weston Hamilton (2018) have brought home the hardware for the state.

LOVING LAUREL

Horacio Karamanos tied Chuck Baltazar's 33-year-old record by riding seven winners at Laurel Park on October 26, 2002. After finishing second in the first race of the day, Baltazar rode seven straight winners on December 15, 1969. Bill Hartack won six races on November 5, 1955, while Kent Desormeaux had a pair of six-win days in February, 1989 (17 & 28), the year he won a record 598 races. Jockey Mario Pino was aboard six winners on October 25, 2003.

JOCKEY WESTON HAMILTON CONTINUES WINNING TRADITION

There's a strong tradition, both in his family and on his circuit, which preceded Weston Hamilton when he began riding professionally in December 2017—one the young journeyman is proud to continue.

Hamilton, 20, rode for the last time as an apprentice Dec. 21, 2018, winning two of his five mounts at Laurel to give him 118 victories on the year with the weight allowance, tops in the country. His $3.43 million in purse earnings ranked second.

His success allowed Hamilton to become the 11th Maryland-based rider to earn the Eclipse Award as champion apprentice, following future Hall of Famers Chris McCarron (1974) and Kent Desormeaux (1987) as well as Ronnie Franklin (1978), Alberto Delgado (1982), Allen Stacy (1986), Mike Luzzi (1989), Mark Johnston (1990), Jeremy Rose (2001), Ryan Fogelsonger (2002) and Victor Carrasco (2013).

"It's such a blessing and an honor to be riding, and I want to thank everyone that's given me a shot and all the trainers and good horsemen that I've been around and have pushed me to get better," Hamilton said. "It means the whole world to me. Not just to ride, but to be leading is kind of mind-blowing to think about. I never thought I'd be coming this far," he added. "I've really been improving and working on a lot of things and it's all going my way. It's all coming together. We've been riding for some really good trainers and I've had some great experience. I've been having the time of my life."

Hamilton is the youngest son of Steve 'Cowboy' Hamilton, a popular and successful rider in Maryland over three different stints dating back to the early 1990s. Though sidelined since mid-June 2018 with a back injury, the elder Hamilton owns nearly 1,400 career wins and is a two-time meet champion at legendary Pimlico Race Course.

"I couldn't be prouder," Steve Hamilton said. "I don't think anybody could be more proud to see their son do what he's doing and have the success he's having with his work ethic and his attitude about things. We couldn't be happier for him."

"In any kind of profession, you've got to have some luck; be in the right place at the right time," he added. "I'm a firm believer in having luck, and a firm believer in having to make your own luck. Lucky things happen to people that get up every morning, have their head screwed on right and are doing everything they can to earn that luck."

Born in Maryland, but raised in Steve Hamilton's native Oklahoma during the first of his two breaks away from the game, Weston Hamilton learned to ride and care for horses both from his father and under the tutelage of Frank 'Goree' Smith, owner-operator of the famed Elloree Training Center in South Carolina and brother of Laurel-based trainer Hamilton Smith.

Hamilton won his first two pro races Dec. 11, 2017 at Laurel, his only mounts on the card—the breakthrough victory coming on a 5-year-old mare named I Just Wanna Win. He finished the year with eight wins and $141,766 in purse earnings from 49 mounts.

His 2018 season got off to a strong start when Hamilton wound up second in both wins (46) and purses ($1.18 million). After going three-for-35 during the 12-day Preakness Meet at Pimlico, Hamilton tied for second in wins (25) and ranked fifth in purses earned ($844,013) at Laurel's summer stand.

Hamilton ranked fifth in wins (32) and in purses earned ($956,045) during Laurel's 2018 calendar year-ending fall meet. He had 106 wins overall at Laurel and Pimlico in 2018, second only to Jorge Vargas Jr.

"When I first started, if a horse didn't run too great and it was because of me being green and not really knowing exactly how that horse should have been ridden or what he wants, I had to work on just staying positive and not get angry and move on to the next one," Hamilton said. "You have to keep a clear mind and stay positive and confident. I've been on some horses where it's not their day and you have to stay positive and keep riding hard," he added. "My dad has taught me so much. I try to watch and learn from every jockey in the room everywhere I go. I've been adding a few things here and there."

Hamilton continues to lean on his primary inspiration and mentor for advice and tips, going over his performance on a daily basis. "We'll watch the races and he'll come home and ask me what I think," Steve Hamilton said. "Sometimes I have something to say and sometimes I tell him I don't think there's anything he could have done different. I just tell him, 'Keep your head up and keep on truckin', and focus on staying positive and staying healthy.'"

Weston Hamilton escaped injury Dec. 20, 2018 at Aqueduct, walking away from a scary two-horse spill in which veteran rider Jose Lezcano suffered a fractured nose when his horse broke down. Steve Hamilton accompanied his son to New York that day.

"When I'm here at the house, the TV's on and I'm watching the races and watching him, No. 1 to make sure he gets around there safe every time," Steve Hamilton said. "The other day in New York was a scary deal. I was there with him and I'm just glad he's OK. Even Jose was very fortunate."

Wes Hamilton has supplemented natural talent with a work ethic gleaned from watching his father. Entering his journeyman debut he had 894 starters, tops among all apprentice riders, and frequently splits his mornings between Laurel and Pimlico.

"You have to work hard in this game. Probably every month or so, I'll take a day off. I'm usually out there every day," Hamilton said. "If I don't have horses I'm working, I'm coming to Laurel first thing in the morning and seeing all the people I need to see, then I head to Pimlico to scrape up some mounts and try to get on something in the morning—gallop, breeze, anything I can do for anybody. A lot of mornings I'll go to Laurel and breeze up to seven horses, then go to Pimlico for after the break and get on two or three and then come back," he added. "I usually have quite a few during the races, so there's days when I'm getting on 15 horses a day sometimes. I'm putting in some hard work and it's really paying off."

Represented by agent Simon Purdy, Hamilton is well aware of the challenges greeting riders when they first lose their weight allowance and is determined not to let it affect his outlook or performance.

"I hope we can keep working like this. I'm going to do my best to keep working hard," he said. "I know after you lose the bug it's going to slow down for a bit, maybe. I'm going to try to work harder than I've been working to keep it rolling."

One of Pimlico's oldest stakes races, the Black-Eyed Susan was first run at Pimlico in 1919 as the Pimlico Oaks. The name was changed in 1952 to compliment the Preakness and to acknowledge the Maryland state flower. The mile and one-eighth test for three-year-old fillies is traditionally run the Friday before the Preakness. The race was first graded in 1973 and has been a Grade II event since 1976.

Among the Black-Eyed Susan Stakes winners are such classic fillies as Nellie Morse, who was the only filly ever to also take the Preakness; Gallorette; High Voltage; Caesar's Wish and Wide Country. Nine winners have also been named champion three-year-old filly including Twilight Tear, Davona Dale, Serena's Song, and in 1999, Silverbulletday.

The Black-Eyed Susan has long been recognized as the middle jewel of the "traditional" filly Triple Crown, which also includes the Kentucky Oaks (at Churchill Downs) and the Coaching Club American Oaks

GRADED STAKES

(at Belmont Park). Only three fillies: Wistful (1949), Real Delight (1952) and Davona Dale (1979), all owned and bred by the illustrious Calumet Farm, have ever accomplished this feat. Calumet Farm also holds the record for having bred and owned the most Preakness (7) and Black-Eyed Susan (6) winners.

More recently, the New York Racing Association has created a second "Triple Tiara" for fillies which adds the Acorn Stakes and the Mother Goose Stakes to the Coaching Club American Oaks. Davona Dale holds the distinction of being the only filly to ever win both triples.

The Black-Eyed Susan has also seen a number of fillies become quality broodmares. After retiring, Black-Eyed Susan runners have gone on to produce Forward Pass (Princess Turia), Pleasant Colony (Sun Colony), Alysheba (Bel Sheba), Broad Brush (Hay Patcher), Lively One (Swinging Lizzie) and Slew City Slew (Weber City Miss). Weekend Surprise, who finished third in 1983, is the dam of 1990 Preakness winner Summer Squall (sire of 1999 Preakness winner Charismatic) and 1992 Horse of the Year A.P. Indy.

RED RUBY stalked the pace outside COACH ROCKS, moved up three wide on the far turn, was floated out a bit turning for home, secured command in upper stretch, lugged in near the eighth pole and pulled away under hand urging. COACH ROCKS set the pace in the two path, drifted out a bit turning for home, finished well ahead of the rest but was no match for the winner. INDY UNION bumped with GOODONEHONEY leaving the starting gate, lacked speed, raced in the two path into stretch and had a mild gain inside horses. SARA STREET, three wide the first turn, chased the pace, raced four wide the far turn and weakened through the stretch. GOODONEHONEY, bumped with INDY UNION when forced out and pinched back by C.S. INCHARGE leaving the starting gate, raced outside horses down the backstretch, circled the far turn six deep, finished willingly but failed to make an impact. STAKES ON A PLANE moved up in the two path turning for home and failed to sustain her bid. TELL YOUR MAMA hugged the inner rail in a striking position for seven furlongs, retreated through the stretch. MITRAH raced in mid pack down the backstretch, was five wide around the far turn and faltered in upper stretch. C.S. INCHARGE bore out on GOODONEHONEY leaving the starting gate, raced along the rail down the backstretch, stopped on the far turn, was eased and walked off.

*Farma Way's time of 1:52.2 established a Pimlico track record in 1991. Bet Twice annexed a $100,000 bonus as a Triple Crown nominee in winning 1988 running. For three-year-olds in 1937 and 1954. Won in a walk-over 1942 & 1948. Prior to 1953 winner-take-all race. Not run 1959-1987, 2002, 2007, 2009-2011.

Introduced by Alfred Vanderbilt in 1937, the Pimlico Special was the first major stakes race in the United States by invitation only. The 1938 running played host to one of America's most historic moments when Seabiscuit upset War Admiral in the famed match race. The long-awaited winner-take-all showdown between War Admiral, representing the East, and Seabiscuit, representing the West, was named "Race of the Century" by Sports Illustrated in 1999 and forever immortalized in the movie Seabiscuit in 2003.

After 22 runnings, the Special was discontinued after 1958, but revived as a handicap in 1988 by then Maryland Jockey Club President Frank De Francis and quickly restored to its glory days as an American classic.

Bet Twice bested Cryptoclearance and Alysheba in '88 and there have been many other memorable races since. In 1991, the versatile Farma Way equaled the American record at the distance, the incomparable Cigar staged a spectacular show in 1995 as part of his 16 straight win streak and Include, owned and bred in Maryland by Robert Meyerhoff, recorded a dramatic nose victory over Albert The Great in 2001.

Fifteen of the 41 winners of the Pimlico Special went on to earn Horse of the Year honors, including Invasor, who collected 2006 honors. The Argentine-bred was a perfect four-for-four in Grade I races during his four-year-old campaign, also winning the Suburban Handicap, Whitney Handicap and Breeders' Cup Classic.

The Special returned in 2012 as a Grade 3 race after being off the stakes schedule four of the previous five years because of purse shortages.

Irish War Cry led wire-to-wire capturing the 2018 Pimlico Special.

IRISH WAR CRY assumed the early lead, set the pace slightly off the rail, responded to urging in upper stretch and steadily increased his advantage while kept under pressure. ONE LINER saved ground, chased the winner, was under brisk urging through the lane, weakened and held on for a dead heat. UNTRAPPED bore out leaving the starting gate, was angled in approaching the first turn, raced along the rail down the backstretch, eased out to the three path on the far turn and was up at the wire for a dead heat. DISCREET LOVER, bumped by HEDGE FUND leaving the starting gate, lacked speed, raced inside horses most of the trip and passed tired ones. RATED R SUPERSTAR, well back for seven furlongs, swung to the seven path turning for home and failed to be a menace. AFLEET WILLY, three wide the first turn, chased the pace, remained three wide the far turn and gave way through the stretch. HEDGE FUND bumped DISCREET LOVER when bearing in leaving the starting gate, was a forward factor three wide for six furlongs and was done leaving the far turn. SOMETHING AWESOME, unhurried for six furlongs, offered a mild move four wide on the far turn, gave way in upper stretch and was eased late.

The Dixie is Pimlico's oldest stakes race and the nation's eighth oldest, first run in 1870 as the Dinner Party Stakes at a distance of two miles. It was won that year by Preakness, whose name is forever remembered by the race named in his honor three years later.

Champions of many eras are among Dixie winners. Whirlaway, the 1941 Triple Crown winner, returned to Pimlico the following year to win the Dixie at the Preakness distance of a mile and three-sixteenths. Assault, another Triple Crown winner, won it as a 4-year-old in 1947. Powerhouse Calumet Farm dominated the Dixie in the 1940s. In addition to Whirlaway, Sun Again (1944), Armed (1946) and Ferret (1948) all flew Calumet Farm's devil red and blue colors to victory that decade. In the 1800s, legendary stars of the turf—Hanover, Duke of Magenta, Henry Bassett and Tom Ochiltree—were victorious in the Dixie.

GRADED STAKES

Three times in Dixie history winners carried as much as 130 pounds to victory: Sarazen, the only two-time winner, carried the imposing weight in 1925, and was saddled with two pounds less in 1926; the famed "Chocolate Soldier", Equipoise, in 1934; and Armed during his Horse of the Year season of 1946.

Until 1955, the Dixie was run on dirt. It was then switched to the turf, contested at a distance as far as a mile and a half, and included in the campaigns of champion turf horses St. Vincent (1955) and Fort Marcy (1970). Fort Marcy crossed the line first as well in 1971, but was relegated to fourth and remains the only horse in the Dixie's long history to lose by disqualification. But his time of 2:27.40 that he recorded the previous year is still the Pimlico record for the mile and a half on the turf.

Twice the race has been run in two divisions, and trainer Wayne Stucki made the most of it in 1965, sending out both winners. After his *Or er Argent went out and set a course record in the first division, Flag lowered the standard a half hour later, taking more than a second off *Or er Argent's short-lived mark by completing the mile and a half in 2:29.

In 1991, the race was shortened to a mile and an eighth, when it became part of the Early Times Triple Turf Series, which continued through 1997. During that time the Dixie hosted some of the most talented fields in American turf racing and its winners included two-time Breeders' Cup Mile winner Lure (1993), and Eclipse Award turf champions Sky Classic (1992) and Paradise Creek (1994). In 2004 local star Mr O'Brien (Ire) established a new course record for the nine-furlong distance as he bounded under the wire in 1:46.34 while upsetting the field at odds of 11-1. The record stands to this day.

The Dixie celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2001. Over the last decade its list of winners have included Breeders' Cup Turf champion Better Talk Now (2006) and Paddy O'Prado, a top 3-year-old of 2010 whose first start at 4 was a stellar win in the Dixie.

More than a century of rich history at Pimlico puts the Dixie in a league of its own.

Double Booked's time of 1:47 established a Pimlico grass course record for 1-1/8 miles. Switched to main track and run as a Grade 3 in 2018.

Heavy rain caused the 2018 Dixie to be moved from the turf to the main track, but Fire Away was unfazed and won by 3/4 of a length.

B. h. (May), by War Front - Salute, by Unbridled. Trainer McGaughey III Claude R. Bred by Phipps Stable (Ky). FIRE AWAY saved ground, stalked the pace, hugged the inner rail entering the stretch, found ample room inside UNBRIDLED JUAN through the lane, bid for the lead inside the sixteenth pole and was drawing out under brisk urging. UNBRIDLED JUAN, urged to the early lead, set the pace in the two path down the backstretch and around the far turn, drifted out approaching the eighth pole and weakened. JUST HOWARD prompted the pace outside UNBRIDLED JUAN, was three deep challenging for the lead leaving the far turn, drifted out near the eighth pole and weakened. O DIONYSUS, angled three wide mid way on the far turn, remained outside horses down the backstretch, advanced four deep on the far turn to reach a striking position entering the stretch and tired. Due to the race being taken off the turf, the race was downgraded to Grade III.

Barbara Fritchie (1766-1862) of Frederick, Md., was immortalized in the ballad written by John Greenleaf Whittier.

Maryland was a border state during the Civil War, with strong sympathies for both pro-Union and secessionist views throughout the state. When General Lee's Army of Northern Virginia attempted a Northern invasion in 1862 (which led to the battle of Antietam in western Maryland), Thomas J. "Stonewall" Jackson brought his brigade though Frederick.

Every American flag had been hidden from view, except for one defiantly unfurled by 90-year-old Barbara Fritchie, who supposedly waved the Stars and Stripes from an upstairs window of her home. Jackson's troops fired at the flag until he, observing Fritchie's courage in the face of grave personal danger, ordered them to ignore her and march onward.

While the accuracy of the story has subsequently been challenged, the news of Fritchie's stand spread quickly, emboldening pro-Union Marylanders at a time when fear of a Confederate victory was widespread. A replica of Barbara Fritchie's house serves as a museum for Civil War and Frederick memorabilia.

First run at Bowie in 1952, the Barbara Fritchie Handicap has showcased top older fillies and mares, beginning with Singing Beauty in the inaugural running. Among the talented list of winners are All Brandy, Twixt, Skipat, Wood So, Tappiano, who set a new track record in 1989 which still stands today, and champion Xtra Heat, who captured back-to-back runnings in 2002 and 2003.

The Barbara Fritchie moved to Laurel Park in 1985. Along with the General George Handicap-GII, the Fritchie is now part of Laurel Park's Winter SprintFest, which has become the highlight of the winter meet.

GRADED STAKES

Named for George Washington, the General George Handicap began as a mile and a sixteenth event for three-year-olds at Bowie Race Course in 1973. Some of the area's leading Triple Crown contenders started their three-year-old campaigns with a win in the General George. Roo Art, Broad Brush, Private Terms, Little Bold John and King's Nest were all among the winners before this event was opened to older horses in 1991.

Since being shortened to a distance of seven furlongs in 1989, the General George has attracted the top sprinters to Laurel Park each year. Recent winners of this Presidents' Day event include Senor Speedy, Blushing Julian, Meadow Monster and Affirmed Success.

The race was first Graded in 1991 and now joins the Barbara Fritchie (G3) to complete the Winter SprintFest, which has become the highlight of Laurel Park's winter meet.

Feargal Lynch guides Switzerland to victory in 2018 Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash-G3

The Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash is one of the elite sprints in the country.

The inaugural De Francis Dash attracted the nation's finest sprinters to Pimlico Race Course in the summer of 1990. Included in the spectacular field were 1989 Sprint Champion Safely Kept and top sprinters Glitterman and Sewickly. But at the wire, in a fitting tribute to the late Mr. De Francis, it was the Maryland-bred, Maryland-based Northern Wolf in a track record-setting time of 1:09.

The Dash moved to Laurel for its second running. The distinguished field included two champions—Safely Kept and Housebuster—as well as leading sprinters Clever Trevor and Sunny Blossom. Housebuster captured the winner's share of the lucrative purse with a five length victory. He was named Eclipse Award Sprint Champion for the second year in a row.

During the next nine years while the Dash reigned as Laurel Park's signature summer event, it was captured by two additional Sprint Champions: Cherokee Run (1994) and Smoke Glacken (1997).

GRADED STAKES

The race was moved to the fall in 2001 with instant success. Taking advantage of a deep sprinting field three weeks after the Breeders' Cup Sprint, the De Francis Dash attracted a strong field of seven, including four of the top Breeders' Cup finishers with visions of an Eclipse Award. Thor's Echo laid claim to the 2006 sprint championship with a hard fought, driving victory in the Dash, three weeks after winning the Breeders' Cup Sprint at Churchill Downs

The De Francis Dash was first graded in 1992 and became a Grade I event in 1998. In 2000, Richter Scale set the Laurel track record, running the six-furlongs in an impressive 1:07 4/5.

FRANK J. DE FRANCIS

From the moment Frank De Francis became chief executive officer of Laurel Race Course in 1984, the complexion of Thoroughbred racing in Maryland changed forever.

Dynamic, forceful, always seeking new opportunities to expand Maryland racing's horizons, De Francis brought an intensity to his endeavors that energized everyone around him.

Before his death in August 1989, De Francis had put Laurel and Pimlico in the forefront of American racing.

Extensive facilities renovations, including the innovative Sports Palaces at Laurel and Pimlico, were part of the De Francis operating mode, as were significant increases in advertising and promotional expenditures.

He also sought to market Maryland racing to horsemen across the country and internationally, through such events as the revived Pimlico Special, an instant hit as one of the nation's leading older horse races; the International Turf Festival, a five-race grass extravaganza in October; and the winter sprint weekend at Laurel, featuring the lucrative General George and Barbara Fritchie Handicaps. During the De Francis years, the Maryland stakes schedule underwent major revisions which drew participation from horsemen on a regional and national basis.

Frank De Francis' personality, intuition, and yes, touch of genius, made every day of his tenure as the leader of Maryland racing—be it Preakness Day or a Thursday in February—a special day at the races for all participants, especially his people, the fans.

SWITZERLAND took the lead at the rail at the five eighths pole and rated the pace, was pressured leaving the three eighths pole and dug in under steady encouragement to hold on well. LAKI rated close toward the inside, bid leaving the three eighths pole, gained little on the winner and had to settle for second best. SWEETONHELADIES became edgy in the gate then saved ground off the pace, bid approaching the three eighths pole and was along for third inside the sixteenth pole. COLONEL SHARP stalked the pace off the rail, challenged the winner leaving the three eighths pole, held aim through the turn but dropped back into the stretch and flattened stride the final sixteenth. LEWISFIELD rated close, rounded the turn in the six and seven paths, entered the stretch widest and finished evenly. THE MAN stalked the pace toward mid track, bid into the turn, left the turn in the six path and had little left. ARTHUR'S HOPE was not a factor. ALWAYS SUNSHINE rated close to the early pace toward the outside, rounded the turn about the five path then angled in at the top of the lane and weakened.

MARYLAND MILLION

THE JIM MCKAY MARYLAND MILLION

34th running, October 19, 2019
at Laurel Park

The 33rd running of the Jim McKay Maryland Million showcased great athletes, incredible performances and further proof of Maryland racing's resurgence. Total handle on Maryland Million Day reached $5.704 million, the largest handle in 11 years and eighth-largest in event history. Meanwhile, a crowd of XXXXX came out to watch the races and experience the continued $30 million renovation of Laurel Park. The 2018 Maryland Million also introduced the inaugural Clubhouse Festival featuring Grammy nominated Steve Aoki, which drew thousands of new fans.

Maryland Million Day was highlighted by Three Diamonds Farm's Bonus Points overcoming some trouble at the gate to post a decisive 2 3/4-length victory in the $150,000 Classic in 1:50.50, the third-fastest time in race history. It was the third win on the day for jockey Nik Juarez, born and raised an hour north of Laurel Park, after finishing first with Clever Mind in the $100,000 Nursery and Spartanos in the $125,000 Turf.

Hall of Fame jockey Edgar Prado's victory aboard Limited View in the Maryland Million Lassie was his 17th overall, tying him with retired Ramon Dominguez for the most in event history. Other winners on Maryland Million Day included Crabcakes in the Maryland Million Distaff and Blu Moon Ace in the Maryland Million Sprint.

Maryland Delegate Sandy Rosenberg (D) District 41 proposed to the Maryland Legislature in 2009 that, with a joint resolution, McKay's name be officially adopted by Maryland Million's Board of Directors.

"I think Dad would have been a little overwhelmed," said Mary McManus Guba, McKay's daughter. "He was a modest man but he would have been thrilled beyond words. It is a tremendous honor. He has received so many honors but for this to be named after him and that for how it will be known means so much to our family."

The Maryland Million continues to receive strong support from Maryland's extensive breeding industry, which includes more than 200 farms. Maryland-sired Thoroughbreds are nominated before they become 2-year-olds and remain eligible for life to run in the Maryland Million races.

With the 2014 running, Eighttofasttocatch joined Safely Kept, Countus In, Mz. Zill Bear, Docent and Ben's Cat as the only runners to win three times on Maryland's Day at The Races. The son of Not For Love became the fourth horse to repeat in the Classic, joining Timely Warning (1990-91), Algar (1997-98) and Docent (2002-03) as back-to-back winners of the race. Catcher also finished first in the Classic in 2011.

MARYLAND MILLION

JIM MCKAY

An American icon, Jim McKay is best known as the long time host of ABC's Wide World of Sports, but in his adopted state of Maryland, the respected and honored television broadcaster is fondly remembered as the founding father of the Maryland Million.

McKay, born James McManus in 1921 in Philadelphia, moved to Baltimore at age 14 with his family, where he attended Loyola Blakefield High School and Loyola College. After serving as a navy captain during World War II, McKay returned to Baltimore and worked as a reporter for the Baltimore Sun before joining WMAR-TV in 1947.

His was the first voice ever heard on television in Baltimore. His first broadcast was a horse race at Pimlico Race Course in 1947. It was the start of a love affair as horse racing captivated him like nothing else.

McKay left Baltimore in 1950 and was host of Wide World of Sports for over 40 years. It was his voice which provided the memorable opening to that broadcast, "spanning the globe to bring you the constant variety of sports....the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat."

McKay was the first sportscaster to win the Emmy Award. He won twelve, the last in 1988, while covering more than 100 different sports in 40 countries.

In 2002 he received the International Olympic Committee's highest honor, "The Olympic Order." He covered 12 Olympics, none more memorably than the 1972 Summer Games in Munich, Germany. He was the anchor when the news that Palestinian terrorists kidnapped 11 Israeli athletes. It was left to McKay to tell Americans when a raid to rescue the athletes ended in tragedy.

McKay owned a home and farm in Baltimore County and lived there with his wife Margaret until his death in June 7, 2008, the day Big Brown failed to win the Triple Crown.
